3.5 - APICS SCOR DS (Supply Chain Operations Reference-Digital Standard)

The Supply Chain Operations Reference Digital Standard (SCOR DS) model is the product of ASCM (formerly APICS) following the merger of the Supply Chain Council and APICS in 2014. It transforms the approach to supply chain processes. It provides a unique framework that links business processes, metrics, best practices, and technology into a unified structure to support communication among supply chain partners and to improve the effectiveness of supply chain management and related supply chain improvement activities.

The SCOR model was established in 1996 and has been updated regularly to adapt to changes in supply chain business practices. SCOR remains a powerful tool for evaluating and comparing supply chain activities and performance. SCOR captures a consensus view of supply chain management.
